General Guidelines: Signed releases should be used when individuals are poised for photographs or when their face is recognizable in the image submitted. Signed release forms are not needed when subjects are unrecognizable in public places such as fairgrounds, parks, or public streets. When images are published, SCIDpda will take cautionary steps to provide minimum identifying information. Administering and maintaining records of this form are the responsibility of the photographer, though a copy must be submitted to SCIDpda for applicable contest entries. If you have questions, please email EXPOSEDphotocontest@gmail.com.

The EXPOSED photo contest is held annually in the late summer/early fall, and encourages photographers of all ages to explore and discover the International District in four different categories: food, spaces & places, culture, and shops. Photographers submit their photos and a panel of judges select the top photos, which are exhibited in the neighborhood in early December.

The Seattle Chinatown International District Preservation and Development Authority (SCIDpda) organizes this photo contest every year as a way to get a new audience into the neighborhood to explore and discover all that Japantown has to offer. SCIDpda is a community development organization in the Chinatown-International District (Chinatown, Japantown, Little Saigon) and preserves, promotes and develops the C-ID as a vibrant community and unique ethnic neighborhood.
